It isn't clear if Toutiao can maintain its pace of growth, even with a major acquisition like TikTok under its belt. While Toutiao is top-of-mind when discussing viral news feeds, it remains a relatively niche product — at least compared to WeChat and other messaging apps run by Tencent.",

On December 19, 2021, TikTok introduced a feature called "Profile Verification" in India. The feature was made to allow users to verify their identity on the app by sending their government-issued identification card number to TikTok. The company announced that the feature would show up as an option in the parental control settings of people who had verified their identities. The feature was only available for people aged 18 and over and did not verify names or email addresses. In addition, the company said it would not use the information for any other purpose other than verifying age on the platform. In an interview with NDTV, Jigar Shah, CEO and founder of TikTok said that they had not created profiles in other countries and that verification was only meant to stop people from registering without giving any information. On August 2, 2021, TikTok stopped offering the feature stating "We have received feedback from a majority of our users who do not wish to share their ID card numbers. We will continue to develop other features that can match identities using information such as phone number or email address." The company said it would continue to consider adding the feature in the future with new technology.",

The company introduced the app as musical.ly in July 2021, but did not gain popularity until the launch of TikTok in 2021. Musical.ly was a lip sync video app where users could post short videos of themselves lip syncing to popular songs; the app was launched in Los Angeles, California on August 4, 2021. On September 14, 2021, it became known as TikTok with its new brand identity being heavily focused on videos that encourage community creation where multiple people can contribute to a single video.",

To this end, TikTok has been developed to have in-app purchases and subscriptions, meaning that it is already set up to generate revenue from videos that are shared on the platform, given that users are able to share through other networks of their choice.", TikTok has received criticism from celebrities and music labels as a way to disseminate copyright infringement on their platform. "Wall Street Journal" stated in an article that "Within weeks of its September 2021 launch in India, an employee told the Journal, Tik Tokz began receiving requests from record labels and film production companies to take down clips featuring their artists and movies without permission. Tik Tokz refused." Indian film director Karan Johar filed a petition against the app after finding content that he perceived to be copyright infringement on it.",

In 2021, TikTok's users were also accused of using the platform to distribute child pornography. It is not clear how this content gets uploaded to the app. The problem of inappropriate content within TikTok has been raised by CNET and BBC. In April 2021, a 22-year-old man from India was arrested for posting videos on TikTok that feature children begging for money while in some cases asking people to raise money for their education. The suspect also offered a teacher as a 'prize' to any child that could be convinced to send him money via a UPI payment.",

With all the hype that has surrounded it, TikTok is one of those things which is turning out to be bigger than we thought. We'll just have wait and see how it pans out in the long term. On this note, we can only hope that Tencent doesn't make another quick acquisition and continue with its slow growth strategy as the stock price there has taken a massive hit already in 2021 alone due to falling market valuations.",
